Western To Open Its 46th Year

Student Union Nearing Completion

Contractors Prediction Is Completion In October

Contractors building the new Student Union Building predict that the spacious $750,000 structure will be completed by mid-October. When this latest addition to Western's campus is ready for occupancy, it will mark the completion of the inner circle of buildings which ring the summit of College Heights.

The Student Union Building will be the realization of a dream of all Westerners for a building devoted entirely to recreational activities for the student body. In completing the inner circle, the new building fills the place left open between the

Western To Observe Holiday Next Friday And Saturday

Next Friday and Saturday, July 4 and 5, Western will observe the only holidays which the college will take during the summer session.

President Paul L. Garrett stated that all classes would be dismissed both days in observance of Independence Day. Classes at the college will be dismissed following the final class period Thursday afternoon and re-assemble on Monday morning, July 7.

All administrative offices at the college will be closed on Friday.

Cedar House and J. Whit Potter Hall, boys dormitory. Also it is constructed in line with other buildings in the inner circle, which are Van Meter Auditorium, the Library and Cherry Hall.

New Cafeteria

On the ground floor will be a complete and modern cafeteria which will take the place of the present cafeteria now on the ground floor of Potter Hall.

The first, or main, floor will be devoted entirely to a large lounge and recreational facilities. It is planned that all the school dances will be held on this floor instead of in the gymnasium as has been done in the past. On the second floor will be rooms for club and group meetings.

The building has been so designed that a third floor can be developed at a later date, if the present structure does not prove adequate.

Work was begun on the building last August after the contracts had been let around July 1. Excavation proceeded on schedule, and the corner stone was laid at a ceremony held on March 7. Since that time construction has proceeded rapidly which makes the contractors optimistic concerning the early date of completion. The location of the building will provide easy access for usage from all parts of the campus.

Foreign Students To Visit Western

Thirty-four foreign students will be on Western's campus on July 9-10 as guests of the Bowling Green-Warren County Tuberculosis Association.

These students now studying in the United States are from seven countries—Austria, Belgium, Finland, France, Germany, Italy, and Norway.

Members of the group range in age from 16 to 20 years and are high school and college students who have won scholarships in the United States through competitive examinations offered in their respective countries.

While in Bowling Green, the young people will observe classes at Western and the Bowling Green Business University and will be shown other points of interest in this area, including the Kentucky Building, the Forest Borders dairy farm, the Mammoth Cave.

Final Examinations Summer Session 1952

Dean F. C. Grise has announced that in all courses offered in the summer session a final examination period will be held at the last class period on Tuesday or Wednesday, July 29 or 30. If the instructor thinks that additional time should be devoted to the examination, the class period immediately preceding the last period may be used for this purpose.

Freshman Days To Be Held On September 11 And 12

Western will open its forty-sixth year as one of the Commonwealth's leading educational institutions on September 11 when the 1952-53 school year will begin.

Thursday and Friday, September 11 and 12, have been designated as Freshman Days and these two days will be devoted exclusively to the interests of the beginning students.

Including the summer graduates, Western will have graduated more than 400 students this year. At the spring commencement exercises, 217 graduates received degrees.

Dr. Duke K. McCall, president of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the summer graduates on Sunday, July 27, in the Stadium. In the event of rain it was announced that the program would be moved to Van Meter Auditorium.

Freshmen who will be entering the college for the new school year will assemble in Van Meter Auditorium at 9 o'clock on Thursday morning, Sept. 11. The members of the first year class who have not previously enrolled will receive all instructions for enrolling and be given assistance in making out their schedules of classes during the first day.

The program will begin with chapel exercises. Information concerning the history, traditions, standards, requirements and courses of study of the College will be provided. Tests will be given which will aid in the proper classification of Freshmen. A tour of the campus will be conducted in order to familiarize the new students with the college grounds.

To Wear "Ask Me" Tags

A large group of upperclassmen will be on hand to answer any questions and give any aid the newcomers may need. The upperclassmen will be easily identified as they will be wearing large tags saying, "Ask Me."

Thursday evening at 7 o'clock a huge get-together party will be held for the new Freshmen in the spacious Kentucky Building where they will meet the faculty members and the administrative staff of the college, who will be ready to answer any questions and give any help the Freshmen may require.

Oakley Elected President Of Alumni Assn.

Carlos Oakley, A. B. '31, superintendent of Union County schools, Morganfield, Ky., was elected president of the Western Alumni Association at the annual Alumni luncheon held in Potter Hall on May 29. Mr. Oakley had previously served a four year term on the board of directors and was elected to a one year term as president succeeding Miss Margery Settle, supervisor in the Daviess County school system.

Elected to the board of directors in the vacancy left by Mr. Oakley was C. A. (Tony) Horn, BS '25, Mr. Horn is principal of Butler High school, Princeton, Ky.

These candidates were elected on ballots mailed to each member of the Alumni Association and the announcements were made at the luncheon.

Highlight of the luncheon was the reunion of the class of 1927 exactly twenty-five years after their graduation. Approximately thirty-five classmates gathered at special tables with their families and friends. Dr. S. W. Grise, A. B. '27, of Johnson City, Tennessee, and president of his class, acted as sponsor of the reunion. Each member of the class of '27 was called upon to recapitulate the events that have taken place since graduation.

Also gathered at special tables were the class of 1920 and the Potter College class which hold reunions every year.

Two Official Conferences To Be Held On Campus

Annual Rural Life Meet July 18-19

Western's annual Rural Life Conference sponsored each summer by the college will be held this year on July 18 and 19. The conference this summer will climax a Leadership Conference which is to be held at Western from July 14 through July 19.

The Rural Life Conference has been a feature of the summer activities at Western since the early 30's. This year the State Department of Education designated the week prior to the annual event as the dates for the new Leadership Conference in order that the county and independent district superintendents who will be on hand July 18 and 19 may take advantage of the work done during the previous four days.

An old-fashioned fish fry, as has been the custom every year, will be held again on the picnic grounds at Mammoth Cave on the afternoon of July 18. It will get underway at 6:30 p.m.

The following morning a program of general interest pertaining to the subjects covered in the Leadership Conference will be held in Van Meter Auditorium at 10 o'clock.

Students Urged To Attend

Faculty members and students at Western are urged to attend the conference. President Paul L. Garrett stated. Tickets for the fish fry will be on sale in the Business Office priced at 50 cents. President Garrett announced that all students eating in the college cafeteria who wish to attend the fish fry will be given credit for the meal missed in the cafeteria.

It was also announced that if there is sufficient demand, buses will be provided for transportation to Mammoth Cave. The buses will leave from the front of Cherry Hall

Western ROTC

Western's Army and Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps programs have been planned for the coming year to accommodate all regularly enrolled qualified students of the college.

These programs have much to offer the college student provided he avails himself of its opportunities. Most students are in somewhat of a state of confusion as to their draft status while attending college. It is the present policy of the Army and the Air Force to grant draft deferments to the ROTC Cadets as long as they do satisfactory work both in ROTC and AFROTC and in their academic studies in the college. This deferment holds good through the summer vacation.

The student receives college credit for the ROTC work which may be applied to the total number of hours required for graduation.

All ROTC Cadets are furnished uniforms and text books required in their military studies. During the junior and senior years, the government pays $90 per day and allows the Air Force Cadet to retain a complete tailor-made officer type blue uniform upon graduation. The total pay for the last two years amounts to approximately $400.00. The Army Cadets turn in their officer type uniform upon receiving commission but are given a $250.00 clothing allowance in order to purchase the necessary uniform items.

At the end of four years' work in ROTC and receiving a degree the student is commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Army or Air Force Reserve. It is strongly advised that all freshmen investigate this opportunity to get a commission in the Army or the Air Force. Any questions that one may have will gladly be discussed with the individual if he will come to the office of the Professor of Air Science and Tactics, or the Professor of Military Science and Tactics, both located in the Physical Education Building of Western Ky. State College. If this contact is not convenient, please feel free to write to either the PMS&T or the PAS&T at Western. Each interview or letter will receive the personal attention of the PMS&T or the PAS&T, or some qualified member of his staff.

Being a member of the ROTC gives the individual an opportunity to participate in many activities which help develop leadership and form a well-rounded education. For example, the ROTC sponsors the Military Ball, Pershing Rifles, and Rifle Team. In addition, the AFROTC sponsors the Prop and Wing Club, and the Arnold Society of Air Cadets.

Each year the AFROTC organizes an Air Force Glee club which makes several tours during the year.

Looking Backward

One Year Ago: John Sherman Cooper addressed seniors... Three training school teachers were off to Europe... West, All Stars beat East All Stars 7-4 in Western Stadium. 39 ROTC cadets at Western received commissions in regular and reserve Army and Air Force... 392 listed on Spring honor roll.

Two Years Ago: Jesse Stuart spoke in chapel... 84 Seniors escaped finals... D. J. Wilgus was engaged to join English faculty in fall... Miss Stonecipher went to Europe for the Summer.

Three Years Ago: 170 were awarded degrees at graduation... Dr. J. D. Williams, chancellor of the University of Mississippi, was the speaker at commencement exercises... Photographic exhibit of the Protestant Revolution period was displayed on campus... Infantry cadets spent six weeks at Camp Campbell, Kentucky, and Fort Mead Maryland, while Air Cadets were at Langley Field, Virginia.

Review Of A Great Year

When the summer session ends on July 30 with commencement exercises, it will mark the closing of one of Western's most successful years.

Listed below are just a few of the many outstanding accomplishments of the college, its students, faculty members and alumni during the 1951-52 school year.

Margaret Griffin was elected president of the senior class to become the first girl ever to serve as president of a senior group. This office rounded out Margaret's career as class president of her sophomore and junior classes. Her brother, Bill, was elected president of the sophomore class. R. H. "Bubber" Simpson was picked to head the juniors and Bill Reynolds was named freshman prexy.

Kelly Thompson, Assistant to President Garrett and public relations director of the college, was elected governor of the Kentucky-Tennessee district of Kiwanis International. Dr. Earl A. Moore was named district secretary.

The Western Players, under the direction of Russell Miller, presented the first dramatic production of the season, "Three Blind Mice", early in November.

Vice President Alben W. Barkley spoke in the gymnasium and ex-United States Senator Garrett Withers delivered an inspiring address at the annual Founders Day chapel day program.

Lowell Harrison, AB'46, became the second Western graduate to win a Fulbright Scholarship for study in England.

As December opened, a beautifully decorated and highly successful Military Ball was staged by the ROTC departments. Hal McIntyre furnished the music for the annual event.

Three hundred juniors and seniors from over sixty Kentucky high schools assembled on the campus to form the 1951-52 edition of the Kentucky All-State high school chorus.

As the new year rolled around 22 seniors were named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. The Western Players presented "The Night of January 16" and the Hilltopper basketball team began to roll up an impressive record of wins.

Jo Ann Dent and Alice Allen were named editors of the 1952 Tallyman and 1,634 enrolled for the school semester.

Western won the Ohio Valley Conference basketball tournament and moved on to the National Invitation Tournament at New York for the sixth time since 1942. The University of Louisville was beaten 62-59 in the opening round. St. Bonaventure eliminated the crippled Hilltoppers, 70-69, in the quarter finals.

The debating team closed out the season with an outstanding record of ten winning matches in 12 debates. William Bivin, Raymond Cravens, David Mofford and Thomas Pogue made up the team.

The HERALD was awarded Medalist rating by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association for the third straight year. This rating is the highest that a college newspaper can win in the nationwide contest conducted by the Association. The HERALD has won this high recognition five times.

The Western Players finished the year with productions of "The Merchant of Venice" and "Sing Out Sweet Land."

Cornerstone of the new Student Union Building was laid. The best Tallyman Ball in many years was given in the Western gymnasium with Tom Hewgley's orchestra furnishing the music.

William Bivin won the Ogden Oratorical Contest. College High won the annual Kentucky High School Regional Speech Contest. Over 400 students, alumni and friends of the college attended the annual Western Breakfast at K.E.A.

Jerry Parker won the Robinson Declamation Contest. Better than 3,000 high school music students were on the campus for the annual three-day State Music Festival. W. Wallace Hunt was named to receive a National Science Foundation fellowship in chemistry and will go to Ohio State University this summer to do graduate work.

Senior Agriculture students Martin Massengale and Charles D. Drake were awarded fellowships at the University of Wisconsin.

The Army and Air ROTC units again received top rating in the annual Federal inspection. The rifle team took the East-West award, a traveling trophy between Eastern and Western, for the fourth straight year. The Pershing Rifles drill team won honors at two drill meets.

Twenty-four members of the band received awards as the year closed. Martha Helen Garrison won the Ogden Trustees Medal as the year's honor graduate. The tennis, golf and baseball teams won OVC championships.

Barbara Bates was named Mountain Laurel Festival representative. The 1951 Tallyman, equalled in size by only two previous editions, arrived on the campus early.

Gene Rhodes was chosen outstanding member of the Hilltopper basketball team.

Thus with this summer issue, the HERALD closes out the 1951-52 year and looks forward with anticipation to a bigger and better year in 1952-53.

The Library Science department has added to its regular teaching staff for the summer Miss Leora Miller, librarian of the Bardston high school library. The demand for courses in Library Science for school librarians is heavy that all twenty-four hours of Library Science are offered this summer. Mrs. Sarah Garritt and Miss Miller are teaching full-time and Miss Sara-Tyler and Mrs. M. C. Ford are teaching part-time. Miss Margie Helm is head of the department.

Miss Nettie Harrison, reference librarian, has returned to the Library staff after a semester's leave of absence. Miss Harrison has fully recovered from her recent illness.

The Library has now a string collection of books on folklore and folk ballads. Among the recent acquisitions are Botkin's "A Treasury of Western Folklore", Eddy's "Ballads and Songs from Ohio", Lawrence's "Customs in Many Lands", and "Ballads from Virginia".

The most recent additions to Kentucky literature are the biography of "Marse Henry" by Isaac Mar-Mrs. Mary Breckinridge, "Wide Neighborhoods", giving the story of the frontier nursing service. A new Kentucky novel is "Brighten the Corner" by Hollis S. Summers.

HILLTOPICS

Western's "W" Club under the direction of President Carroll Broderick has started a project of gathering squad pictures of every Hilltopper intercollegiate athletic team since athletics were started on the Hilltop back in 1910.

The pictures are to be 8 x 10 glossy prints which will be identified and framed for hanging in the "W" Club Room on the second floor of the Western gymnasium.

To date President Broderick has located pictures of most of the teams as far back as 1915. The files at Chas Johnson's Studio have been carefully screened. They produced most of the negatives taken by Eugene Franklin back over the years when Mr. Franklin operated his studio which photographed most of Western's teams.

Tallyman year books in the files at Kelly Thompson's public relation offices have been examined. The Tallyman produced identifications to many of the old negatives and prints located so far.

The Vista which was published in 1915, was the first yearbook found in the public relations office. No other yearbooks are available until the 1924 edition of the Tallyman.

The "W" Club is anxious to locate pictures of all the teams which have played for Western. The Club requests that anyone having pictures of any athletic team taken during the years 1916, 1917, 1918, 1919, 1920, 1921, 1922 or 1923, please contact Carroll Broderick at the Western gymnasium or mail the pictures to Ted Hornback's office in the gymnasium.

If the picture is in a yearbook or magazine, a reproduction can be made without damaging the original. Any pictures or information as to where such pictures can be found will be greatly appreciated by the "W" Club.

Also needed are pictures of teams which played for Western during 1910, 1911, 1912, 1913 and 1914.

Any pictures, negatives, books, magazines or other publications containing needed pictures will be carefully copied and returned undamaged to the owner.

-Hilltopics-

The door to President Paul L. Garrett's office is always open to any student, alumnus or friend of the college at all times. Dr. Garrett, who is now in his fifteenth year as president of Western, is never too busy to take time to talk over any problem which may be confronting a Westerner. This is true in spite of the fact that he has a rather full schedule in discharging his myriad duties as a college president.

President Paul L. Garrett at his desk

Dr. Garrett personifies the friendly, cooperative spirit which permeates the entire college. Students stop him every day as he walks across the campus from his office in Van Meter Auditorium to his home, to talk over plans or problems. The president welcomes these conversations as it gives him an opportunity to keep in closer touch with what Westerners are doing.

A steady stream of former students, graduates and friends of the college goes through Dr. Garrett's office each day. The president has often stated that he is deeply gratified by the overwhelming loyalty all Westerners have to their college and that visits from those out in the field are always most welcome.

Birds I View

"Birds I view or 'The Philadelphia Story'"
Not to be confused with any Caesars that have gone before, Western makes its bid for leadership in the field with short but powerful Caesar Ricci from Lansdale, Pennsylvania, a suburb of Philadelphia. A sophomore music major, Caesar and his saxophone are well known to all Western students who like to dance. He held a top spot in last year's Red and Grey Orchestra, and is the leader of the Manhattan Sereaders, a small combo which plays every Saturday evening at the Manhattan Towers and which has performed in various spots around Bowling Green in the past year.

During the regular school year, he is a member of the Western band, chorus, orchestra and a capella group.

Caesar intends to be a high school band and chorus director upon graduation from Western. He is now attending summer school and hopes to graduate in June 1954.

A neighbor of Caesar's at home as well as at school is Tony De Marco, from Philadelphia proper. This husky ever-smiling, physical education and geography major, came to Western last year with hopes of playing football here. He played in last spring's Red and Grey football game, and will be out fighting for a berth this fall.

Tony wants to be a football coach after he graduates. He is a member of the Naval Reserve and spent last summer in a submarine. He says that his greatest thrill was undergoing a mock war depth-charge attack and staying submerged for thirteen days.

This young Philadelphian thinks that Western is the best college in the nation, and his girl in Scottsville has more than a little to do with this opinion.

This reporter believes that Philadelphia has more than done its job toward making Western a better school.

Kentucky Building News

by Bill Stephens

A group of some fifty Kentucky newspaper editors under the auspices of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce visited the Kentucky Building on the 27th of May.

Dr. A. L. Crabb is writing a new novel with Henry Clay as the central figure. He has found helpful background and material in the Kentucky Library.

A valuable collection of old newspaper clippings, books, an manuscript has been given to the Library by Mr. Jake Bernard.

Miss Estell Drake, of Bowling Green, has added the following items to the Drake collection: doll, doll dishes, and doll granite cooking utensils; three demi-tasse cups and other china; and an exquisite old sewing basket.

Westerners Receive Honors At KPA Meet

Former Westerners now in the newspaper publishing field throughout the state were honored at the Kentucky Press Association meeting held at Kentucky Dam State Park June 12-14.

The Franklin Favorite headed by L. L. Valentine and Howard Ogles was named the best all-around paper and received the Courier-Journal Trophy. The Favorite was entered in the Class III papers, having circulation of 1,000. Second place in the Class III contest went to the Central City Messenger, edited by Larry and Amos Stone and Ralph Utley. Third place in the best Class III newspaper contest went to the Bardonia, Kentucky Standard, co-edited by graduate Al Walther.

The Favorite also received a certificate in the best front page news story contest for "Black Shank Is Found On Local Farm". In the advertising contests the Favorite took first place in the full page division and the quarter page division.

The Central City Messenger took first place for a "leg" on the Cecil Williams memorial trophy in the best editorial page contest. Amos Stone was awarded a certificate for his editorial series on "School Problems". Larry Stone won a plaque with his column "Mulegergers" in the best hometown column division for weekly papers.

The Times-Argus took a third place in the news pictures division. The Messenger, also was awarded a certificate in the weekly division for the best exhibit of community interest.

The Kentucky Standard won certificates in the half page and quarter page advertising contests.

Elizabeth Spaulding, Kentucky Standard, won a certificate in best religious editorial for "For This We Give Thanks". She was also awarded a certificate for her weekly column "What Have You?"

Mrs. Ella Kouivenbergh of Bardonia has recently given to the Kentucky Building library a wonderful collection of old sheet music most of which was published from 1840 to 1870. Quite a few of these ballads and songs were written by Kentucky composers and published in Louisville.

Mrs. Kouivenbergh is the daughter of a famous musician and music teacher who lived in Bowling Green. She is the sister of the late Mrs. Ben Johnson. Mr. Johnson, before his death, placed in the library many valuable documents.

Mrs. Mary T. Moore, librarian, stated that since January 1, 1932, 3363 visitors have registered in the Kentucky Building museum. These visitors have come from 31 states and the District of Columbia. Six foreign countries are also represented on the register. The total figure does not include some 1,000 people who have attended teas, receptions, etc.

Library records show a circulation of 6,926 books during this six-month period.

Workshop Being Held On Campus

A four-week workshop on the Moral and Spiritual Values in Education is being conducted on the campus this summer. The workshop which carries credit of two college hours is being conducted by Mrs. John Burt, teacher in the Highland high school, Fort Thomas, who is Western graduate.

Sixteen students are enrolled in the workshop, 15 for credit. Several student visitors attend workshop sessions each day which are held from 1 until 3 o'clock, Monday through Friday afternoons. Members of the faculty attend the sessions and discuss the relationship between the workshop and their respective fields.

The workshop is broken into five groups: Curriculum, Sports and Recreation, Counseling, Social Analysis, and Symbols, Ceremonies and Celebrations.

All five groups will be addressed by Dr. Clarence M. Linton, well known authority in the field of educational moral and spiritual value, during the July 2-3 class periods.

Dr. Linton will speak in chapel on July 2.

Mrs. Charles Flowers, president of the Third District P. T. A., will also be a guest speaker for the workshop.

Each of the groups is compiling material which will be beneficial to the classroom teacher re-emphasizing values essential to a high standard of living. All the information will be mimeographed and assembled into a handbook which will be made available to all members of the workshop.

At present the course covered in the workshop is only offered in the summer session. However, it is expected that in the near future such a course will be made available to students during the regular fall and spring semesters.

Mrs. Burt taught in a similar workshop at Eastern last summer and then visited other workshops held in the state colleges, U. of L. and U. K. She wrote a report on the workshop activities which was published by the State Department of Education as the spring bulletin.

Teamed with Billy Vaughn, a member of the Ace Dinning Quartet, these singing "Hilltoppers" have achieved national fame with the recording of two top-notch song hits, "Trying" and "You Made Up My Mind".

Billy Vaughn composed and arranged both numbers and the "Hilltoppers" took over to record them for the Dot label of Gallatin, Tennessee.

Taking the lead in both numbers is Jim Sacca, with tenor Seymour Spiegelman, Don McGuire, bass, and Billy Vaughn, baritone and piano. Bill Stamps, announcer at radio station WLB, Bowling Green, is the group manager.

The boys did their first work in the popular music field on "Trying". After details were ironed out, the tune was tape recorded by Vaughn and brought to Bill Stamps. Bill thought it was an amazing professional work and contacted Randy Wood, his former employer and half owner of the Dot Record Company. Mr. Wood came to Bowling Green, brought his recording equipment and one night just a few months ago the sides now waxed were taped on the stage of Van Meter Auditorium.

Appear On TV Show

Since the record has been released, the "Hilltoppers" have been guests on "Carousel", a TV show originating on WSM TV, Nashville; "Tin Pan Valley", an N. B. C. program originating in Nashville, and an early morning show also from Nashville. Other T. V. and radio appearances are now being planned. Individual members of the group have also been interviewed throughout this vicinity and in Buffalo, New York.

Vaughn has written several additional numbers for the "Hilltoppers." These numbers will be released sometime in the near future on the Dot label.

James W. Sacca Jr. was born in Lockport, New York, where he attended high school. He was prominent in musical activities, sang in the school chorus and received superior ratings in state contests. He was chosen each year in high school for the All State Chorus. Sacca studied voice on scholarship in the Eastman School of Music.

On a football scholarship, Sacca came to Western where he is now a junior majoring in Physical Education. Jim has made numerous public appearances in Bowling Green and has taken part in various college presentations.

Another native of New York from Seneca Falls, born in New York City is Seymour Spiegelman. He is a 21-year-old senior at Western majoring in music on a music scholarship.

Senior From Hazard

Don McGuire, a 20-year-old senior Physical Education major from Hazard, is attending Western on a basketball scholarship. Don plays the piano and he and "Billy" live in "Hilltopper" practice sessions with a jorrid variety of two-on-a-piano work.

From Glasgow, Richard "Billy" Vaughn, 33 years old, is the originator and arranger of the quartet. He attended Western in 1940 as a music major before going to the army, where he arranged for an eighteen-piece orchestra, played in the army band and became quite versatile with almost every instrument in the band. Vaughn returned to Western after his discharge and began playing with several orchestras all over Kentucky. For the last three years he has played piano regularly for the Ace Dinning Quartet. He has been writing songs for the past seven years.

The three college members of the "Hilltopper" quartet are now attending summer school.

Grads Spread Influence Of I. A. Dept

By Harvey Dixon

The influence of the industrial arts department is being spread far and wide by its graduates. Teaching in most of the Eastern and Southern states from Michigan to Florida.

These men send back students from their various high schools and when summer comes around they themselves come back to do graduate work. Frequently those who have finished their graduate work come back, too, just to visit.

Some of the recent visitors have been Orville Lascoe, of Purdue University; Louis "Red" Bean, of Ferdinand, Florida; Russell Blowers, Coatsville, Pennsylvania; T. E. Smith, Covington; Roscoe Drake, Charlotte, North Carolina; and James Palmore, Walton, Kentucky.

17 Graduates Enrolled

Seventeen industrial arts graduates are enrolled at Western this summer, starting, continuing or completing their work on the master's degree. They are J. W. Medor, Carabelle, Florida; W. H. Simmons, Spartanburg, South Carolina (State School for the Blind and Deaf); Kenneth C. Sinclair, Charlotte, North Carolina; J. Frank Hartis, Lexington, Virginia (V. M. I.); Howard E. Smith, Lexington, Virginia (V. M. I.); Ronald Her, Fieldale, Virginia; John H. Esterly, Bassett, Virginia; J. W. Daniel, Louisville (Manly High School); Harvey J. Dixon, Jefferson County (Southern High School); B. E. Lane, Providence; M. T. Bardin, Hopkinsville; Howard T. Sowders, Bowling Green (Western Trade School); J. C. Judah, Bowling Green (Western Trade School); Austin McCubbin, Bowling Green (Bowling Green High School); David H. Ransom, Bowling Green; Ellis W. Rust, Owensboro (Owensboro Tech.); and Arthur S. Stewart, Bassett, Virginia.

Four of this group, John Esterly, J. W. Daniel, Frank Hartis and David Ransom, will complete work on the master's degree this summer. A fifth, Yechiel Rafter, Petersburg, Virginia, who is not listed above, will also receive the master's this summer.

According to Mr. L. T. Smith, head of the industrial arts department, graduates of Western are in great demand, particularly in the southern states. He frequently gets messages from administrators such as this: "... He's just what we wanted." Or "If you have another as good as he, send him on down here." And then again, "When I need an industrial arts teacher I always try to get a Western man first." Mr. Smith says: "The outstanding reason that the department has grown and its students are in demand is that our boys have gone out and done a good job."

92 Graduates Since 1946

Since 1946, including the August class of that year and the June class of 1952, there have been ninety-two industrial arts men who have received the bachelor's degree and twenty-one who have received the master's degree at Western, an average of nineteen degrees per year.

Several Western industrial arts men are teaching in colleges and universities. According to the most recent information they are as follows: W. R. Whalin, Eastern Kentucky State College; Dewey Wallis, East Tennessee State Teachers College; H. L. Oakley, Murray Kentucky State College; George Lilly, Murray Kentucky State College; Ray Wallis, East Arkansas State College; Charles Youmans, University of Kentucky; Orville Lascoe, Purdue University; Frank Hartis, Virginia Military Institute; Alfred H. Moore, Michigan State Teachers College; Howard Smith, Virginia Military Institute. Three of the industrial arts department faculty at Western are graduates of this institution: Mr. Carl B. Barnes, Mr.

H. B. Clark and Mr. Walter B. Nalbach.

Mr. Clark, who joined the faculty in 1944, has set up an automotive mechanics shop for the department and two courses in auto mechanics are now offered. These courses have become quite popular with industrial arts students. The classes are limited to eighteen and usually some are disappointed on registration day.

Industrial arts courses are not limited to men only. Several women particularly from the art and home economics departments, have enrolled in industrial arts classes. Of particular interest to women are the classes in General Shop, Design, and House Planning, although some take Auto Mechanics and the other courses offered by the department. A few women have majored or minored in industrial arts.

The industrial arts department is making every effort to broaden and modernize its courses thus to better prepare its students to teach children who are growing up in an increasingly mechanized and industrialized environment. The demand for industrial arts teachers has shown a steady growth, and there has been a very marked increase in the number of calls for teachers in this field in recent years.

Lt. Col. George H. Sibbald, professor of Military Science and Tactics at Western, announces that in connection with the establishment of an Army ROTC unit at Murray State College, he and his staff have been nominated to sponsor the unit there this summer.

Colonel Sibbald stated that the commander of the Second Army area has excused members of the Army ROTC at Western from participating in the operation of ROTC summer camp training at Fort Benning, Georgia, for this purpose.

Because of scheduled temporary absence of Colonel Sibbald during the month of June, Captain Alfred W. Kitchner, assistant professor of Military science and tactics will head the project. He will be assisted by Chief Warrant Officer John B. Fuqua, the unit's adjutant.

Toppers Take 5 Of 7 OVC Championships

Coach Clayton Announces 1952 Football Schedule

Coach Jack Clayton has announced the 1952 football schedule for his Western Hilltoppers.

The slate shows nine games with one open date. Four tilts will be played in the Western Stadium and five on the road. The open date is to be filled with a home game.

All five members of the Ohio Valley Conference will be met. The Hilltoppers will open against Middle Tennessee State's Blue Raiders, a new addition to the OVC, on Saturday night, September 20, in the Western Stadium.

On each successive week end until November 22, when the Murray Thoroughbreds will be played at Murray, the Hilltoppers will engage a strong opponent. Western is playing Murray on the road for the second year in order to make it possible to alternate years when the Eastern Maroons and Murray will invade the Hilltop.

Eastern will come to Bowling Green on November 8 for what has been tentatively scheduled as the 1952 Homecoming game.

Other home games will be against Delta State on November 1, Southeast Missouri on November 15 and the as yet undetermined team for the October 18 open date.

The Hilltoppers will appear on the road against Evansville College, which withdrew from the OVC last spring, on September 27. Alabama State Teachers College, a newcomer, to the schedule, will be engaged at Florence, Ala., on October 4.

On October 11, Coach Clayton will take his crew to Morehead for an OVC battle with the Morehead Eagles. Tennessee Tech's Golden Eagles will be played on October 25 at Cookeville, Tenn., in an OVC game.

Coach Clayton and his two assistants, Turner Elrod and Frank Griffin, are expecting a successful season, as the Hilltoppers will have plenty of depth and experience at almost every position. Barring injuries to key players, which wrecked the Hilltoppers last season, Western should field one of its best teams during this coming season.

Such standout performers from last year's team as Jimmy Felix, one of the top passers among the nation's small colleges last season, will be back to quarterback the Hilltoppers through his senior year. Gene McFadden, a pile-driving Owensboro junior fullback, will return to take up where he stopped last season as the Hilltoppers' top ground gainer. Co-captain Willie Watson, a top scorer until he was injured last year, will return for his senior year of competition.

Other backs who played top notch football last season and looked exceptionally good in spring practice are Max Stevens, John Sowders, Bobby Bilyeu and Jim White.

In the line the Hilltoppers will have back Marvin Satterly, Bill Ploumis, Co-captain Willard Price, Walter Apperson, Jack Binkley, Jerry Passifume, R. H. Simpson, George Sauer and Guy Newcom.

All told, Coach Clayton is expecting to have approximately 30 lettermen return from last year's squad plus some outstanding transfers and freshmen.

The complete schedule is as follows:

Sept. 28 Middle Tenn., Home
Sept. 27 Evansville, Away
Oct. 4 Alabama State, Away
Oct. 11 Morehead, Away
Oct. 18 Open
Oct. 25 Tenn. Tech., Away
Nov. 1 Delta State, Home
Nov. 8 Eastern (Homecoming), Home
Nov. 15 Southeast Missouri, Home
Nov. 22 Murray, Away

Garrison And Wallheiser To Coach At Valley

Garland "Red" Garrison, former basketball coach and principal at Auburn, will move to Valley high school in Jefferson county this fall as head basketball coach. He will replace J. C. Cantrell who moves up to athletic director at Valley.

Frank Wallheiser will join the Valley coaching staff as assistant football coach to Dallas Arnold. Louis "Bull" Snyder is now an assistant football coach at Valley to total five Western graduates connected with the Valley athletic program.

Baseballers End Year With Win Over Eastern

Coach Ed Diddle's 1952 baseball team won the Ohio Valley Conference baseball crown on May 23 at Richmond, as the Hilltoppers knocked off the Eastern Maroons, 9-4, in the rubber game of a three-game play-off between the conference's eastern and western division winners.

The triumph over the Maroons gave the Hilltoppers five of the seven athletic championships awarded each year in the OVC to finish out one of the most successful years Western athletic teams have enjoyed in many seasons.

Although Murray repeated as the football champion as the 1951-52 year was opening, the Hilltopper basketball team came back to take both the season and tournament basketball titles. After taking the league tournament title, Coach Diddle guided his netters to the National Invitational Tournament in New York for the sixth time since 1942 where they defeated the University of Louisville, 62-59, in a bitterly contested game in the opening round. In the quarter-finals the Hilltoppers, sorely hurt by the loss of Tom Marshall, high scoring forward who was injured in the Louisville game, went down 70-69, before a red hot St. Bonaventure five to close out the season with a record of 26 wins and five losses.

The Hilltoppers came back from an 18-point deficit which the Bonnies piled up during a torrid third quarter to nearly pull the win out. Nat Holman, famous New York coach, called Western's finish one of the greatest he had ever seen in all his years of being connected with basketball.

With the coming of the spring sports season, the Hilltoppers turned to golf, tennis, baseball and track. Quickly all four teams became contenders for the conference championships.

Coach Ted Hornback's tennis team raced through a nine-match schedule, winning seven and losing two prior to the OVC tournament. Roger Otten, junior from Bellevue who has lost only one singles match out of 34 encounters in his three years at Western, led the way. In the tournament Otten and Co. rolled over Eastern, 5-3, to carry off the team championship. In addition, Otten won his third OVC "A" singles title and freshman Tom Qualey, also from Bellevue, took the "B" singles crown.

In baseball the Hilltoppers won 11 games and dropped three as Western took the OVC's western division title. Then came the three-game play-off against Eastern at Richmond. The Maroons took the first game, 4-3.

Gene Rhodes, captain and star of the basketball team, took the mound to stop the Maroons with four hits and shut out Eastern, 1-0, to pull Western even.

In the final game big Art Spoelstra, who had made a rush-trip from Bowling Green the morning of the game, went in to relieve Don

Intramural Program Has Greatest Participation

"More People participate in intra-mural sports activities than any other function on the campus", according to Coach Frank Griffin, director of intra-mural sports at Western. Over half the entire student body, men and women, take part in the thirteen events offered each year. These events include touch football, basketball, softball, volleyball, ping pong, foul shooting, horse shoes, shuffleboard, tennis, badminton, track and field, golf and swimming. Basketball is by far the most popular game.

At the close of the spring semester, the basketball intra-mural tournament also ended, 34 men's teams and 6 women's teams having seen action. Twelve to fifteen players were recorded on each roster. At the end of the championship game in each event an individual trophy is awarded to the winning team or person. The team having taken the greatest number of events is similarly awarded the "jug".

The "jug" is a five gallon wine container, decorated with a big red "W" denoting year's best in intra-murals. The symbolic trophy is then placed in the Goal Post in view of the public.

Many Teams Organized

The teams are organized by clubs, classes, and organizations of Western. The dormitories furnish a team from each floor to compete for the final clash between dorms. Students from the same county often form a team to compete against other county groups for the champions.

Expense is no problem as the groups have use of the college equipment and playing area plus instruction and advice from the various athletic departments. Varsity players on several occasions have been discovered through the intra-mural program.

Events in golf and swimming will take place the last two weeks of the summer season to complete the year.

Loudermilk Receives Masters Degree

Charles A. Loudermilk, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Loudermilk, Sr., Bowling Green, was awarded the Master of Arts degree at commencement exercises held June 6 at George Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn. Mr. Loudermilk, Sr., is a member of Western's agriculture department.

Loudermilk, who holds the M. A. degree in education from Western, received his degree from Peabody in Library Science.

Dr. James B. Conant, president of Harvard University, delivered the commencement address and degrees were conferred by Peabody President, Henry H. Hill.

Indiana Wins All-Star Game 86-82 In Overtime

Indiana's All-Stars poured in eight points in 34 seconds at Indianapolis on June 21 to defeat Coach Ed Diddle's Kentucky All-Stars, 86-82, in a sizzling overtime game that set a scoring record for the 12-game series.

Maurice Lorenz of Madison was Indiana's chief scorer with 26 points but Kentucky's Phil Rollins of Wickliffe was high for the game with 29. Lorenz won the "Star of Stars" award because he brought the Hoosiers from behind in the fourth quarter.

It was the first overtime game in the series. Kentucky's All-Stars have been able to win only one game and that was seven years ago.

Students Relax In Pool

If you're looking for someone on the campus this summer and he is not in class, your best bet is the swimming pool. Here you will find the greater part of the student body relaxing and enjoying a moment's escape from the heat and worries of the day. Life guards are always on duty to assist any swimmer in perfecting his ability in swimming or diving, and keep careful watch over the pool to avoid any mishap. The public is invited to the pool every afternoon from 2:30 till 9:00. Junior and Senior life saving courses are offered at these times and private instruction is also available. Coach Frank Griffin is the head instructor at the pool and, with the help of student instructors, conducts classes daily in beginning, intermediate and advanced courses. Forty women and 45 men are enrolled in the beginning classes. The college boasts the record of never having a student entered in any of these courses, who failed to learn to swim. The prime factor in all instruction is the importance of safety.

Improvement Of Football Field Under Way

Head football coach Jack Clayton has begun work on Western's gridiron to improve the turf and general appearance of the playing field. The center of the field was disced and the soil cover loosened in preparation for reseeding. One hundred pounds of Bermuda grass was sown and five hundred pounds of field fertilizer was added to promote quick growth.

The former grass cover was of a weaker variety and had failed to withstand game abuse. The new variety, however, has proven itself as adaptable to the purpose.

Next fall a cover of rye will be sown to keep the field green the year round and provide protection for the original Bermuda grass.

Coach Clayton and several players are experimenting with the use of sawdust on the field. It is the coach's belief that sawdust will add humus to the soil and hold enough water to maintain proper amounts in dry weather.

Twenty-four hour watering will continue until the seeded area has begun to grow.

According to Coach Clayton the field will be in excellent condition by the first game.

Miss Clara E. Lilly, 613 East 11th Street, a member of this year's rifle team for girls at Western Kentucky State College has achieved the rating of "expert" on the basis of individual firing, the school has announced.

She fired a score of 185 out of a possible 200 with a modified 22-caliber rifle.

McGuire in the third inning and preserve a brilliant, 9-4, championship winning triumph.

Coach Frank Griffin's golf team could win out four matches while losing five and tying one during the regular season play. However, in the tournament the Hilltoppers pulled away from Tennessee Tech, Evansville and Middle Tennessee to give Western its fourth championship of the six awarded in the OVC. Junior John Coleman came back to regain the individual championship which he won as a freshman in 1950 but lost last year. Coleman's blistering par 140 over the 36-hole medal play route was too much for any of his opponents.

58 Air Force Cadets Attend 2 Summer Camps

lege dedicated to the training of Kentucky's youth. The college was founded in 1906 with Dr. H. H. Cherry, one of Kentucky's famous educators, as its first president. The first class to attend Western after the college became a state supported institution enrolled in Sept., 1906.

In 1908, when Western was established by an act of the General Assembly as a state supported institution, the school had already been in existence thirty-one years, having been founded in 1875 by A.

Dr. H. L. Denovan, president of the University of Kentucky, was the first student to register in the Western Normal School. He enrolled in 1906 and was graduated from the life certificate course in 1908.

W. Meil, giving Western-Kentucky State College and its predecessors an unbroken record of distinguished service to education in Kentucky for seventy-six years.

Dr. Cherry served as president of Western for thirty-one years until his death in 1937.

President Beginning 16th Year
Dr. Paul L. Garrett, who succeeded Dr. Cherry will be entering his sixteenth year as head of the college when he delivers the opening address to the freshmen on Thursday morning, Sept. 11, 1952.

Western exists for the purpose of training teachers, administrators and supervisors for the schools of the Commonwealth. In carrying out its program for teacher education, Western recognizes that it has a dual purpose to perform. While the college is primarily concerned with the education of teachers, administrators and supervisors for the schools of the state, it believes that it has the obligation to provide opportunities for students desiring a general college education and also for those wanting to complete pre-professional requirements for entrance to technical and professional schools.

As a part of its program of education, Western also feels responsible for helping its students develop right attitudes, desirable ideals and high ethical standards. The college seeks not only to provide opportunities for professional and vocational training, but it also strives to give a type of education which contributes to the personal growth of the student; an education that increases his thinking power and his culture and helps him to acquire those other attributes which tend to make life more effective and more worthwhile.
